

Arminio

Mixed Media

195 S.N. 25 AP's

36 x 18

Red Veil

“Red Veil”

by Henry Asencio

There is no denying the power of Henry Asencio’s paintings and their capacity to ignite sensuality and passion. The artist’s ability to conjure emotion through his explosive use of color and texture creates an unspoken narrative that transcends the obvious beauty of his subject.

Asencio’s “Red Veil” is infused with dynamic composition and movement. Executed with a dramatic palette his figure invokes the whimsical allurement of femininity. Guiding her crimson drape, she extends her arms to fan the viewer with remarkable grace. While, confidently exposed, her able body and unbreakable spirit entice you to enter a world of uncertainty and lush wonderment.

The artist’s portrayal of a woman’s indomitable spirit comes to life through his signature use of color and brushstroke. We are witness to her plight and champion her delicate strength.

